

Profile

Personal Statement

Experienced in various aspects of web development and project management, competent at prioritising workload and capable of delivering full projects as well as working with pre-set applications. Excellent diagnostic and communication skills with a keen and enthusiastic approach to web development. Accustomed to working long hours to ensure targets are being met and projects are completed on-time, to the required standards.

Career Objective

Having worked mostly as a self-motivated, freelance developer I am looking to become part of a team with similar enthusiasm for web development. Progressing from working on individual and small business projects to apply my skills to more complex and challenging solutions.
